MISS MARY PARMLEY

Ogden Violinist of Exceptional Talent Is With Ellison-White Chautauqua

Miss Mary Parmley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parmley, passed through Ogden on the westbound Los Angeles Limited Tuesday afternoon. Miss Parmley is violinist for the Ionians, one of the Ellison-White chautauquas, which consists of a violinist, cellist, pianist, vocalist and reader. A number of Miss Parmley's friends were at the depot to greet her and Mr. Parmley and family accompanied her from Ogden to Salt Lake. The girls of the company said they were introducing Miss Mary as the "girl from Utah," and Miss Parmley was proud of the introduction.

The Ionians commence their engagements at Exeter, Cal., and will work north through California into western Canada, playing at many places both in California and Canada, and then continue their trip into Alaska, where they are also booked for a number of engagements.

Miss Parmley, who is a graduate of the Columbia college of music in Chicago, and a pupil of Ludwig Becker, has had several good offers for the summer, among which was an opportunity of traveling as violin soloist with a large band, but she considered the Ellison-White chautauqua offer the best and signed a contract for one year.

Spring Flowers in Varied Shades Predominate At Wedding

Thursday at high noon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Howe, 619 Maryland avenue a pretty home wedding was solemnized when Miss Neva Howe became the bride of Harry Thurston Heywood, Rev. Godfrey Matthews of the First Congregational church performing the ceremony.
Promptly at 12 o'clock the bridal party stood in the parlor of the home which had been very prettily decorated for the event with lovely spring flowers and with American flags. The parlor was banked with bouquets of snapdragons, snowballs and tulips in pink and white and was draped effectively with large and small flags. The bride was attended by the sister of Mr. Heywood, Miss Josie Heywood and the best man was Hugh Silverthorn. Mr. Albert Howe, brother of the bride, gave his sister in marriage while little Miss Anna Ewing, daintily dressed in white was the ring bearer. The bride was attractive in a gown of white crepe de chine with white picture hat and carried a lovely bouquet of white bride's roses. Her bridesmaid wore a gown of pink tulle with hat to match.

The ceremony was witnessed by about thirty-two relatives and a very few close friends of the bride and groom and following the wedding a luncheon was served in the dining room which was a veritable flower garden with fragrant purple and white lilies arranged in an effective manner. The centerpiece for the dining table was a lovely bouquet of lilies. Throughout the home a decorative scheme suggested the spring was carried out to a nicety.
About 4:30 o'clock the bride and groom left for California where they will visit all points of interest before returning to this city where they will make their home.

The groom has been an employee of the Southern Pacific shops while the bride has for some time been in the Ford studio.
